22 November 2019

Dear Derek Johnstone,

Further to our phone call on the 22nd November 2019, I'd like to inform you that I have spoken with my Sergeant about your concerns regarding the enhanced DBS check in regards to you being shown as "suspect" on police systems.

Both myself and my Sergeant do not think that this would appear on an enhanced DBS check, but to ensure that it does not affect you, we have decided to change you from "suspect" to "subject". This means that you were found to be involved in the incident however are no longer seen as a suspect to the crime. You are neutral in the incident and neither the aggrieved party or the suspect. This should not be seen as a problem if any DBS check is performed.

We hope that this eases your anxiety and allows you to have some peace of mind. There will be no further action taken by the police whatsoever and I hope you are happy with the outcome taken.

If you do wish to continue to complain about the service we have provided or the fact you are on police systems, my Sergeant will be happy to speak with you about the matter – please ask for PS 1466 HARDWICK who will further explain why the actions taken have been taken etc.

Otherwise, I hope you have an enjoyable Christmas and hope that no further problems occur in the future.

Kind Regards,

PC 6961 HOBSON
